Notes editors To the World kicks off with an orchestra of Auto-Tuned vocals like West, R. Kelly, and Teyana Taylor avoid sticking it to the man for the RCB/hip-hop hybrid that sticks it to the world. Mercy.1 becomes more ruthless with Pusha T and 2 Chainz, creating a deeply tuned vocal beast. Ghostface Killah compares itself to a deity in New God Flow.1 before closing Don't Like.1 gives the Chicago gang a shot of its own soundtrack. TIDAL is the first global music streaming service with high sound accuracy, hi-def video quality, along with expertly curated playlists and original content - making it a reliable source for music and culture. The album had four singles that reached the Billboard 200. After the release, Cruel Summer received mixed reviews from critics of the song, who praised the songs in which Kanye West participated, but criticized the rest of the album. The album debuted on the #2 the Billboard Chart, selling 205,000 copies in its first week. The album also reached the top 10 charts in Australia, Canada, Switzerland and the UK. Kanye founded his label GOOD Music in 2004. From the beginning, several artists were hired, including West's close associates such as Big Sean, Common, Kid Cudi, John Legend and Pusha T. On May 23, 2012, the album's title was revealed when the film's brutal summer premiere took place at the Cannes Film Festival. The album was originally due for release on August 7, 2012, but has been delayed. Pusha T said she recorded more than 20 verses for the album, and a song with Big Sean and Common called Trash Bags, which was eventually dropped. American rapper Azelia Banks also said she recorded with Kanye in early 2012, but her contribution was not included in the album. The release of Cruel Summer was pre-ordered on the Japanese website HMV, thus revealing its official tracklist The album cover was developed by the creative agency DONDA.
